COLLECTIVE STATEMENT AUGUST 2018

One year ago we joined forces on an issue of great importance by declaring there is zero tolerance to sexual assault and harassment on our campuses. Over the past 12 months we have put in place additional services and new procedures to make our campuses safer for students, staff and the community. Much has been done but our work continues. We remain individually and collectively committed to addressing the issues highlighted in the Australian Human Rights Commission's national survey.
