1 OBJECTS OF THE UNIVERSITY

- 1.1 The Objects of the University of Notre Dame Australia (the University) are defined in Section 5 of its Act of Parliament.
- 1.2 The Objects of the University are:
 - 1.2.1 the provision of university education, within a context of Catholic faith and values; and
 - 1.2.2 the provision of an excellent standard of:
 - 1.2.2.1 teaching, scholarship and research;
 - 1.2.2.2 training for the professions; and
 - 1.2.2.3 pastoral care for its students.

2 PURPOSE

- 2.1 This policy establishes the University's principles, objectives, and standards for the effective governance, management, and use of information and information technology. It ensures that information and technology are secure, reliable, and fit for purpose, and that data and information are managed as strategic assets to support the University's teaching, research, operations, and decision-making.
- 2.2 The policy defines how the University will:
 - 2.2.1 ensure data and information are accurate, consistent, and appropriately governed, with clear ownership, accountability, and stewardship
 - 2.2.2 establish and embed information security, privacy, and risk management controls into systems, platforms and processes
 - 2.2.3 manage information technology to ensure standardisation, integration, and alignments with enterprise architecture and governance requirements, and
 - 2.2.4 enable the appropriate, ethical, and effective use of data, information, and technology, supported by clear guidance, shared responsibility, and user capability.
- 2.3 The Interpretation and definitions section below:
 - 2.3.1 states requirements for interpreting this policy and
 - 2.3.2 explains its hierarchical relationship with other policy documents in the University's Policy Framework.

3 SCOPE

- 3.1 This policy applies to:
 - 3.1.1 employees of the University
 - 3.1.2 students enrolled in programs and courses offered by the University
 - 3.1.3 anyone else who uses the University's information technology, including adjunct staff, visiting staff, members of the Board of Directors, research associates, emeriti staff, alumni, and consultants and contractors engaged by the University, and
 - 3.1.4 under the circumstances defined in the Procedure: Information Technology, staff or students using social media.
- 3.2 The Policy: Research Data Management and Procedure: Research Data Management state requirements for managing information received or created in academic research.
- 3.3 The Policy: Intellectual Property applies to intellectual property held on university information systems.

- 3.4 The Policy: Privacy applies to personal information held on university information systems.
- 3.5 The Employee Code of Conduct and Ethical Behaviour and Code of Conduct: Students define expectations of behaviour, including behaviour when using information systems or social media.

4 PRINCIPLES

- 4.1 Information and data are critical assets and will be managed to maximise value, trust, and protection.
- 4.2 Employees who create or change data on university information systems will follow the relevant process instructions to ensure that the data is fit for purpose, enabling the University to:
 - 4.2.1 monitor its performance via business information reporting, and
 - 4.2.2 meet its external reporting obligations for statutory compliance and funding.
- 4.3 Anyone who uses an information system of the University will keep the information system and its data safe from damage and secure from unauthorised access.
- 4.4 Software developed or installed for the University will follow approved secure development practices, including controlled use of code repositories, protection of credentials, and the prohibition of production data in development and test environments.
- 4.5 Some of the information held by the University is private and/or confidential, because
 - 4.5.1 if made public it might
 - 4.5.1.1 be misunderstood, causing a risk of harm to the University's reputation
 - 4.5.1.2 inadvertently release the University's intellectual property or
 - 4.5.1.3 remove a competitive advantage enjoyed by the University, or
 - 4.5.2 it is personal information of a staff member or student which the University has an obligation to keep in confidence.
- 4.6 Information gathered or created in university activities will be classified to define how it can be used and what arrangements are needed to ensure its security.
 - 4.6.1 There will be four information classification levels:
 - 4.6.1.1 public
 - 4.6.1.2 internal
 - 4.6.1.3 sensitive
 - 4.6.1.4 highly sensitive.
 - 4.6.2 Where there is an actual or suspected breach of the security or confidentiality of university information, the University will respond quickly to assess and manage the breach to minimise harm from it.
 - 4.6.3 The Procedure: Information Management
 - 4.6.3.1 defines these classification levels in more detail
 - 4.6.3.2 states requirements for managing information with the different levels of classification, and
 - 4.6.3.3 states how a breach of information confidentiality or information security will be assessed and managed.
- 4.7 Employees and students are expected, both in their use of university information systems and in their personal use of social media, to avoid

- 4.7.1 harming the reputation or interests of the University or causing the University to fail to meet its legal responsibilities, or
- 4.7.2 posting or sharing material that breaches (as relevant) the Employee Code of Conduct and Ethical Behaviour or the Code of Conduct: Students.
- 4.7.3 The University will monitor use of its information technology and information systems on an ongoing basis, to ensure they are used appropriately.

5 ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES

5.1 Everyone who uses a university information system or a device provided by the University will:

- 5.1.1 maintain the security of the system or device and the information it contains
- 5.1.2 abide by the terms and conditions for its use, and
- 5.1.3 in using the system or device, follow instructions to ensure information security and the quality of data set by the Chief Information Officer and/or the business owner of the information system.

5.2 The Data Governance Group will:

- 5.2.1 oversee the University's approach to data and information management, and
- 5.2.2 recommend changes to the Procedure: Information Management to the Vice-Chancellor for approval.

5.3 The Chief Information Officer will:

- 5.3.1 lead and coordinate university activities to ensure the security of information systems, infrastructure and devices
- 5.3.2 maintain detailed instructions for employees and students to ensure information security
- 5.3.3 maintain the University's information security plan for approval by the Vice-Chancellor, and
- 5.3.4 decide change controls for changes to enterprise information systems to minimise disruption to service.

5.4 The Operations Group will oversee expenditure on information technology in accordance with its terms of reference.

5.5 The Office of Information Technology will:

- 5.5.1 deliver secure, reliable information technology platforms
- 5.5.2 embed standards for data and information governance, and
- 5.5.3 define and monitor controls for maintaining cybersecurity and privacy.

6 RELATED DOCUMENTS

6.1 The Procedure: Information Management states requirements for:

- 6.1.1 classifying information created or received by the University
- 6.1.2 managing university information to which access is restricted
- 6.1.3 ensuring the quality of data on university systems, and
- 6.1.4 assessing and managing breaches of the confidentiality and/or security of information held by the University.

6.2 The Procedure: Information Technology states requirements for managing the University's information technology and ensuring its proper use and security.

6.3 The Procedure: Social Media states requirements for use of social media by staff and students of the University.

6.4 The Employee Code of Conduct and Ethical Behaviour and Code of Conduct: Students define the behaviours expected of staff and students, which apply in contexts including staff and student use of information systems and private use of social media.

7 INTERPRETATION AND DEFINITIONS

Interpretation

7.1 The following rules of interpretation apply to this policy.

7.2 The University's Policy Framework sets out the hierarchy of the University's policy documents.

7.3 Should any provision in this policy be inconsistent with a provision of a document higher in the University's hierarchy of policy documents as stated in the Policy Framework, the higher document prevails and overrules this policy to the extent of the inconsistency.

- 7.4 This policy must be read alongside other closely-related policy documents:
- 7.4.1 the procedures that support this policy, listed in the Related documents section
 - 7.4.2 the Employee Code of Conduct and Ethical Behaviour and the Code of Conduct: Students, which include a requirement to comply with policy documents of the University, and
 - 7.4.3 any other documents listed in the Related documents section.
- 7.5 The procedures that support this policy state detailed requirements in relation to the principles stated in this policy. Where a principle stated in this policy implies a service or entitlement to a person, to enjoy the service or entitlement, the person must meet any requirements and/or conditions that a supporting procedure states in relation to the service or entitlement.
- 7.6 Where this policy uses:
- 7.6.1 the verbs 'will' or 'must', it states a requirement
 - 7.6.2 the phrases 'cannot', 'must not' or 'only [position title] can', it states a prohibition
 - 7.6.3 the words 'include', 'includes; or 'including' followed by a list, the words 'without limitation' are taken to follow immediately
 - 7.6.4 the phrase 'for example' or 'such as' followed by a single instance or list, the instance or list is not exhaustive
 - 7.6.5 the phrases 'described in', 'set out in', 'specified in' or 'stated in', it will be read as if the words 'expressly or impliedly' appeared immediately before them;
 - 7.6.6 the singular, it also means the plural, and vice versa
 - 7.6.7 any gender, it includes the other genders, and
 - 7.6.8 a reference to a statute, ordinance, code or other law, it includes regulations, by-laws, rules and other statutory instruments under it for the time being in force and consolidations, amendments, re-enactments or replacements of any of them.

Definitions

- 7.7 For the purpose of this policy, the following definitions apply:
- 7.7.1 Data means a set of characters or symbols to which meaning is or could be assigned.
 - 7.7.2 Enterprise information system means an information system that the University provides for use enterprise-wide: for example, the finance system, human resources system, learning management system, library system and student management system.
 - 7.7.3 Information means data in a context with specific meaning.
 - 7.7.4 Personal information means information or opinion, whether true or not and whether recorded in a material form or not, about an individual, including information that the University holds in relation to students, staff, contractors and information regarding individuals who attend university functions.
 - 7.7.5 Social media means social networking websites and applications, video and photo sharing websites and applications, blogs, micro-blogging sites, forums and discussion boards, wikis, podcasts, email and instant messages, virtual communities and any other websites or apps that allow users to share comments and/or images over the internet.
 - 7.7.6 University information system means any information system used to create, manage or store information for purposes of the University; enterprise information systems are a subset of university information systems.
