In Conversation with Prof. Mary Gentile, Creator of ‘Giving Voice to Values’

As part of Prof. Gentile’s time as a Visiting Expert in Ethics Education at the Institute for Ethics and Society, the Institute is hosting an academic symposium to engage with the ‘Giving Voice to Values’ Curriculum from a philosophical angle. (For more information on Prof. Gentile and GVV visit: www.givingvoicetovaluesthebook.com).

Presented papers will draw on the philosophical fields of meta-ethics, normative ethics, applied ethics, moral psychology, history of moral philosophy, philosophy of moral education, and professional ethics education (e.g., business ethics education, healthcare ethics education etc.) to address the following topics:

- Philosophical foundations for GVV
- Philosophical resources that could further enrich the GVV approach
- Lines of critical engagement with GVV

Date: Monday 19 September, 9am – 3pm
Venue: NDS15/301 (School of Business Boardroom), The University of Notre Dame Australia, Broadway Campus
