Indigenous Research Training Program (RTP) Stipend Scholarship
Full Time, equivalent to $40,000 per annum, for up to three years

The University of Notre Dame Australia is offering one (tax-free) Indigenous RTP Stipend Scholarship, $40,000 per annum ($30,000 p.a. base rate + $10,000 p.a. top-up) for two years for a research masters program and for three years for a doctoral program.

We are seeking to increase the diversity of our Higher Degree by Research student body, better meet the diverse needs of our community, and enhance educational outcomes and academic leadership among Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander populations. Due to the nature of the position, Aboriginality is considered essential. The successful applicant can be based at Notre Dame's campuses in Fremantle, Sydney or Broome.

To be eligible for the scholarship, an applicant must:

- Identify as an Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander person and be recognised by their community as a person of Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander descent; and
- Meet the requirements for admission to the program and receive of an offer of admission.

Applicants are required to provide a statement addressing each of the eligibility criteria together with supporting documentation. The University may request further information from applicants if necessary. Supporting documentation may include, but is not limited to, a letter of Aboriginality signed under the common seal from a recognised incorporated Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander community organisation such as Land Council or Elders group, Aboriginal Medical Service or a letter on letterhead from a Local Aboriginal Land Council demonstrating membership of the Council.

For new students, scholarship applications are separate from the admissions application process. A scholarship offer is subject to an offer of admission. Further information about HDR admission applications and requirements are available here.

To apply please read the application instructions and submit your complete application via email to hdr.scholarships@nd.edu.au by 11.59pm AWST Friday 14 August 2020.
