SERVICE LEARNING & SOCIAL JUSTICE

The four courses in this specialisation involve pre-service teachers in community engagement, experiential learning, active participation, leadership development, problem-solving and guided reflection. Increasingly, primary schools are engaging their students in service projects within the school and local community. This specialisation provides pre-service teachers with both theory and practical experience in community outreach within a service-learning discipline. The four courses focus respectively on various aspects of social justice, leadership, a diagnostic literacy clinic, and research and scholarship.

SPECIAL NEEDS

There is an increasingly diverse range of students within our inclusive classrooms, including students with disability. The Special Education specialisation will prepare you to accommodate the needs of a wide variety of students with disability, address learning needs, enhance social and behavioural outcomes and reflect on your own perceptions of diversity. You will have the opportunity to interact with and hear from people with disabilities and other key people in their lives. This specialisation aims to prepare you to teach all students to the best of their ability.
